County Demo Chairman Firm With Independents

Moore Urges Women Vote Republican

JAYCEE RALLY - Jacob B. Snider, former Mississippi Lt. Gov. speaks at Tuesday's bipartisan rally in the Jaycee Home. Also shown is Joseph V. Colson, Wilson W. Webre, E. J. Marengo, Russell Elliott and Jerry O'Keefe.

Colson Won't Resign

Saying he had been asked to resign his post as chairman of the county Democratic Executive Committee, Joseph V. Colson pointed out at a bipartisan rally Tuesday night in the Jaycee Home that the committee had voted unanimously to follow an unpledged course and it was his duty as chairman to follow that course.

The meeting was concluded with a lengthy heated discussion with Wilson W. Webre, county GOP chairman, and Jacob B. Snider, former Lt. Gov. of Mississippi, representing the Republicans; Russell Elliott, county Democratic campaign chairman, and Jerry O'Keefe, who was elected outstanding freshman representative in the state house, representing the Democrats. Colson defended the executive committee's unpledged stand.

Both Democratic and Republican representatives agreed that the unpledged faction had no place to go but in the final analysis would have to vote either the Kennedy or Nixon ticket. They both agreed that if the election was so close it had to be decided in the House, Kennedy would win as he has control of that body.

Snider pointed to the achievements of the country under Republican leadership for the past seven and a half years saying there had been no war but that the past three wars were under Democratic administrations. He said the military and economical strength of the country is at an all time high and although there have been some minor setbacks we have lost no major decisions. Colson said the party legally

NEW SCHOOL BUSES AT LAST - County Superintendent of Education Kenneth G. McCarty, right, Wednesday presents a check for $12,295.90 to Arthur Tipping of Gulf Chevrolet, Inc., in payment for two new buses for the county system after details halting the transaction were finally cleared this week. The equipment went into use today, replacing smaller, old and overcrowded machines.

Papers Signed Monday

Clear School Bus Woe

Necessary resolutions were signed Monday afternoon by Charles B. Murphy, president of the county school board, and Sam L. Favre Jr., attorney for the board of supervisors, providing for purchase of two new school buses after several weeks of delay over technicalities.

The board of education met again Monday morning to clear the way for the $12,295.90 loan from the board of supervisors also going into the matter at some length Saturday.

Supervisors had voiced some question over repayment of past transportation loans by the school system and examination of warrants by school officials indicated the board is only $7,000 behind, $2,000 on its 1953 note, $1,000 on one in 1955 and $4,000 on a $24,000 loan which normally is not considered due until spring when funds are available.

County Superintendent Kenneth G. McCarty told the board Sunday that completion of the pending resolution by Favre was the only thing holding up the loan as Clerk Claiborne Ladner had promised to sign the warrant as soon as that was ready.

Favre was called into the meeting, found the form supplied by the state department of education not applicable in this case and promised to have the proper one ready today.

McCarty, C. C. McDonald, checking school accounts to try to determine the discrepancy between those books and the county ones, found the system had paid cash last year for two new chassis.

Attorney Walter J. Phillips suggested the public should consider three matters in the tight financial situation in which the school board has found itself. One reason for increased expenditures, he noted, was the expansion two years ago from an eight-month program to nine months without any hike in millage to carry the additional cost. More subjects have been added to the curriculum in an effort to improve the educational system, thus requiring more teachers, and more children are going to school now.

"It's only fair to Kenneth (McCarty) to point this out because he's getting some criticism as well as the board," Phillips remarked.

Mrs. McDonald concurred that "People who don't know the whole picture are horrified to read in the newspapers the $44,000 figure." She noted the board has been paying back its transportation loans at the rate of $6,000 a year and $36,000 is all it is supposed to owe at this time.

She added that some confusion seemed to have arisen because

Paving Official Blasts Engineer's Road Report

A Gulf Paving Inc., official Tuesday labeled as "unfair" an engineer's report stating four miles of street built by the firm in Waveland are sub-standard and refused to abide by the engineer's recommendation. The engineer said complete replacement would be impractical and suggested ways of repairing the work to bring it as near as possible to specifications.

Appearing at the November meeting of Town Council, Able O'Koon, general manager of Gulf Paving Inc., said he will have another engineer go over the same streets, built in 1958 but not yet accepted by the town, and that unless that engineer comes up with the same findings he will take the issue to court.

His remarks followed the report given by Engineer J. Norton Haas Jr., selected by the town and paid by Gulf Paving Inc. to make a survey of the streets to see if they meet contract specifications.

In his written report submitted to the council and the firm Haas stated that "these roads do not meet state specifications" and that in order for them to do so "it would be necessary that the roads be completely torn up and rebuilt." He then suggested the repairs.

O'Koon rose and told Haas that "I don't think you're giving

President, 2 Local Posts Go to Voters

Substantial turnouts at the polls are expected Tuesday throughout Hancock County with major attention focused on the presidential election.

In Bay St. Louis, polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 6 p.m. because the voter registration exceeds 1,000. In the rest of the county, voting hours will be from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

While five amendments to the state constitution are on the ballot, more interest is centered about the selection of a new Beat

5 member of the county board of education and a successor to the late Alderman William Ruhr in Waveland's 4th Ward.

Only voters in the Lakeshore and Clermont Harbor precincts will be eligible to vote next Tuesday for the new Beat 5 member of the county board of education to succeed Mrs. C. C. McDonald.

Mrs. McDonald is ineligible for reelection because of residence in Bay St. Louis due to a change in the state law on the matter.

After informal discussions Saturday and Monday the election commissioners made that decision after Attorney-General Joe T. Patterson advised them by letter that they were to determine which voters in Beat 5 reside within or without the municipal separate school district and that only those who reside outside the municipal system's area were eligible to vote for the

Three-Party Rally Friday At N. Central

Democrats, Republicans and unpledged-Democrats will express their views to Hancock County residents at a rally at 8 p.m. tomorrow in North Central School gym.

Russell Elliott, Hancock County Democratic campaign chairman, said the rally has been spearheaded by the Democratic Party but that representatives of the Republican Party and the unpledged Democratic group have been invited to participate.

Three addresses will be given, one for each viewpoint, then an answer-question session will be held with the audience being given a chance to question the three speakers.

Elliott expressed gratitude to Kenneth McCarty, county superintendent of education, and the board of education, for granting permission to use the building for the occasion.

Waveland Plans Political Rally

A three-party rally will be sponsored by Waveland's Mayor Garfield Ladner at 8 p.m. Saturday at Town Hall.

Speakers will be Russell J. Elliott, Beat 5 justice of the Peace and Hancock County Democratic campaign chairman; W. W. Webre, Hancock County GOP chairman, and Joseph Colson, representing the unpledge electors.

All Waveland residents are being invited by the mayor to attend the rally to hear the three political viewpoints.

HOSPITAL BOARD APPOINTMENT - A. H. Gregory, local manager Mississippi Power Co., was appointed recently by Gov. Ross Barnett to the board of trustees of Biloxi Hospital for a four-year term. The board consists of three members, the other two being representatives of Harrison and Jackson Counties and serves the private hospital on the eligible or approved list in their respective counties.

A truck thief captured after an 85-mile an hour highway chase, two armed robbers taken after being stalked through the marsh and the capture of another thief kept Sheriff Gerald V. Price and his deputies busy last week.

Our Booboo

In last week's paper in an editorial entitled "Who's Responsible?" we incorrectly referred to the office of "circuit" clerk when we should have said "chancery" clerk, the offices this year for the first time being separate. To Mr. Lamar Otis, current circuit clerk, we owe an apology, particularly since the editorial in part deals with bookkeeping, a field in which Mr. Otis has had great experience, in fact he says he has been a professional in that field "since before you (meaning this editor) were born".

The editorial was written with the intention of clarifying a confused situation but we gather that some readers thought differently. In reporting what occurred at the meetings of public bodies, the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the Hancock County Board of Education, and in being accurate in reporting what happened at the meetings we thought what happened could be interpreted adversely to two current office holders, Mr. Claiborne Ladner and Mr. Kenneth McCarty and we thought such unfair to them, since from the facts available to us they were not directly involved.

Although we think the current office holders conceivably could be blamed for not KNOWING whether the records were accurate or not, we do not think they are responsible. That is what last week's editorial said.

A Dilemma?

Louisiana's special meeting of its legislature called for tomorrow by Gov. James Davis poses a real problem to the members of its houses. We hope we are not a defeatist in attitude, but it seems almost certain that at present the Supreme Court of the United States will not modify, much less reverse, its Black Monday decision dealing with segregation in public schools. With this fact, which we think it is one, in mind, Louisiana's legislators must act.

Undoubtedly the vast majority of voters in Louisiana oppose integration in any form, schools or otherwise. It also seems to us that the state cannot afford uneducated persons, white or colored. In fact we think better education of both groups is needed.

The legislature's choices appear to us to be three in number: so-called massive resistance, which means no public schools for any race; acceptance gradually of Chief Justice Earl Warren's court decision that public schools must be integrated; and the course followed by Virginia, whereby the decision of public schools or no public schools is left up to the school groups involved.

Because localities' circumstances differ and because the citizens of different localities frequently make differing emphasis on points involved, we suspect that Louisiana's legislature will be wise to follow the example of Virginia and leave the question up to the localities. That course is also in line with the principle of States' Rights.

A Suggestion

One measure introduced during the 1960 session of the Mississippi legislature would have required school boards to publish certain parts of their proceedings, primarily what was paid and to whom. The Echo is one of the few papers that did not support this bill because we felt it unnecessary if a newspaper was adequately covering the meetings of the board and, furthermore, it would be another expense to the taxpayers we did not think necessary even if profitable to us.

Commission Council of Bay St. Louis is basically the only spender of taxpayers' money in Hancock County whose legal advertisements are under contract. As a result the city has a slight reduction in cost. Printing of the minutes of the Board of Supervisors is also under contract but the legal notices, usually requests for bids, are not.

In our opinion all bodies spending the taxpayers' money should try to save the TAXPAYERS' money and thereby be able to give the taxpayer MORE for his money. (Where tax sales are involved the taxpayer, in general, is not concerned and our comments are not directed at advertisements for tax sales by the Sheriff of Hancock County or the Town Marshal of Waveland, whose offices also include tax collection.) We also do not infer that any present or past office holder has at any time acted officially or otherwise in other than the most commendable way.

There are, however, at least five public bodies in Hancock County, in addition to the City of Bay St. Louis, who spend the public's money for so-called legal advertisements. All in all we suspect we get our share, maybe more, but that is not the point.

We think there are two reasons why these bodies should follow the Bay's example. In the first place we believe that contracting for their advertisements will save them, and the taxpayers, money as it does the Bay. Secondly, one basis of the accusation that the newspapers in their news editorial policy are bought by public office holders would be removed.

Thus, if one view is adopted by these boards, the taxpayers and/or voters would gain two-fold: the taxpayer would get more for their money and the voter could be assured that his local newspaper, that's us,

Will the Renegades Get Jack?

Letters to the Editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:
Please print the enclosed history of Girl Scout Troop 1 which was presented at the Juliette Low tea Sunday.

During the early spring of 1932 a group of girls became interested in the Girl Scout movement and approached one of the teachers at Bay High, Miss Helen Vaughn. In regard to organizing a troop, she said she would if she had help, so then they came to me. After talking with this very enthusiastic group of eight or ten girls we decided to take the big step. After receiving the books and information from Girl Scout headquarters in New York, we approached the P-T-A of Bay High to sponsor the movement which they agreed to do. The troop became a reality on April 8, 1932, when Mrs. H. C. Ehrenfeld, commissioner of Girl Scouts in the New Orleans area, came over and helped us with the organization. Miss Vaughn was chosen leader, or captain as they were called then, and I was assistant leader. Lieutenant Later Mrs. Lauren Dickson became 2nd assistant (Lieutenant). We had a fine troop committee composed of five women from the P-T-A - Mrs. Jasper A. Evans, chairman, Mrs. E. S. Drake, Mrs. Porter Barnes, Mrs. Carl Olson and Mrs. L. W. Jacobs. Twenty one girls were present at this first meeting.

Enrollment of 12 girls who had passed their Tenderfoot test was held at the home of Mrs. Drake on Ulman Ave., under a big live oak tree, on May 30, 1932. I was very proud to be the one chosen to enroll these first girls. I had never done anything like that.

Miss Vaughn, with several assistants, took the girls on a four-day camp in Waveland before she left for her home in Magnolia, Miss. Since she was not returning, I took over the troop as captain with Mrs. Dickson as Lieutenant. Mrs. Dickson resigned due to reasons of health in October and Miss Helen Ansley took her place. Two of the girls in our troop, Bernice and Eleanor Jacobs, had been outcasts in Sibley, La., and they were a great help to me in teaching the younger girls the basic skills. Our first meeting place was on an old house back of the home in the morning years. We had many meetings, mostly old empty houses, some friends, or for instance a small house in Mrs. Evans' back yard. In each case we had great times cleaning, painting, decorating and furnishing our "scout house". Eventually our sponsorship was changed to the Methodist Church, and they allowed us to use the Sunday School building for our meetings - and for the first time we had plenty of room, heat and light when needed, and a piano.

Looking over my scrap book I find we did a great deal of civic work. We marched in parades, helped in the library, made favors for hospitals through the Red Cross, etc. We started collecting and repairing toys for poor children with Miss Margery on whom he relies for local news, is not one whose views or news are bought by local officials.

Indirectly we were paid a compliment the other day by one of our county officials who was objecting to a news story in the Echo. He complained that, even if the story was correct, the paper ought to know that most of the people in Hancock County had only gone through the fourth, or maybe sixth, grade and couldn't understand what you "educated" people write. We're glad someone thinks we're educated, but we think much more highly of Hancock County than he does or else we'd never have chosen this county as a place in which to live.

Nye, and after she left we took over the task alone, and for many years this was our favorite project - for several years taking care of over 100 children.

Not having any source of income other than our dues, we gave musical programs every year or so. Mrs. Katherine Wilson (then Mrs. Thomas) helped us. Since she was an artist, dancing teacher and violinist, she was of great help to us for these programs and many other times and places. We had yearly Courts of Awards - usually in late spring. We had no regular summer meetings, but kept busy with our annual camps and a swimming and water-safety program, and working on badges. Mrs. McElroy of Gulfport came to our camps every other day to give swimming and life-saving and we continued going to her in Gulfport to finish these tests.

Later I became water safety director for the Red Cross and we had a regular program here every summer.

Our first camp was held in a house in Clermont Harbor. For three years we camped in the old hotel at Clermont Harbor, "Camp Plum" (Plum) "out of town and nearly out of this world". One year we camped at the unoccupied Weston home in Logtown, the abandoned golf club house in Pine Hills, and once in tents on the vacant lot across from my home. In all of these camps we had official permission, Dr. Shipp, county health officer, made the health examinations and also inspected the camp sites. We followed the "Book" to the letter as far as possible and tried to meet all camping requirements of that time. We had visits to our troop and troop committee from Miss Elizabeth Junkin, field representative of New Orleans, and Mrs. Amie Achter, county commissioner from Amiteville, Ala.

Assistants in later years were Miss Mary Elba Marshall, Miss Lydia Boyd Blount, Miss Ruth Schrock, Mrs. Lucile Anderson, Miss Regina Blizins, and a few others who carried for short periods. Miss Chris Ely, and Miss Lorena Smith, Bay High teachers, and in later years Mrs. Gordon Romanoff, Alice Piccirilli, J. V. Vanderschuer, and Miss Mary Marshall. Others I remember who have helped with camps and programs and as committee chairmen are Mrs. Harold Weston, Mrs. Nellie Nelson, Mrs. Eugene Davis, Mrs. Maribel Peppardine, Mrs. Irma Wenzel, Mrs. A. W. Moore, Mrs. Albert Biehl, and Grady Perkins. Also we helped organize a troop at the Convalescent under Sister Antoinette.

During these early years the highest award in the Girl Scout organization was the Golden Eagle. To be a Golden Eagle Scout a girl must have been an active member of a troop for a period of three years; must have 21 proficiency badges; must be a first class scout for at least six months and must train another girl in the first class requirements. In April 1937 Troop 1 honored their first Golden Eagle.

on whom he relies for local news, is not one whose views or news are bought by local officials.

By Gone Days

15 YEARS AGO
Nov. 2, 1945—Again Hancock County has added a star to her crown and gone over her $3,825 quota for the National War Fund Drive and kept the record she has had during the war. Mrs. George R. Rea, chairman, and Mrs. Roger Boh, co-chairman, thank their splendid workers and the public for the 100 per cent cooperation.

25 YEARS AGO
Nov. 1, 1935—St. Stanislaus College gym was the scene of one of the prettiest affairs Bay St. Louis has seen in some time, the Halloween Ball given under auspices of the Mothers Club for the bus fund. Queen was Miss Peo Harding of Pass Christian who won by the popularity contest among college boys and the people of the vicinity. Maid of Honor was Edith Mae Stier, June Juden, Margaret Jane Williams, Emma Lou Adams, Helen Martin, Joseph Scaffidi, June Elliott, Abbie Bourgeois, Margaret Claire Zimmerman, Nina de Benedetto, Bobbie Regard and Dorothy Tudury, maid of honor.

Miss Blanche Wenar. During the next two years Miss Alice Evans and then Miss Jo Olson were awarded the coveted Eaglet. Many felt these requirements were too harsh and in 1940 the Golden Eaglet passed out of existence. We are proud that Troop 1 has had three girls to achieve this highest award in scouting.

For many years Grady Perkins presented, at the annual Court of Awards, the Perkins Trophy. This was an activities award given on the basis of a rather extensive point system, covering almost aspect of scouting. Some of the girls who won this trophy were Blanche Wenar, Alice Vivian Evans, Jo Olson, Mary Kitzell, Thelma Thomas, Audrey Biehl, Gloria Biehl and Margalo Damberino.

In 1937 Caroline Griffith, charter member of the troop, was selected to represent Mississippi (one of two girls), at the International Girl Scout Camp at Camp Andree in New York. Caroline was a senior at Bay High and we were just proud of her, and of this honor.

We had many day hikes and some overnight hikes, doing our own cooking and camp-making and mostly paying our own way as we went along. We had several trips to New Orleans - to the Cabildo and to Ole Miss - Tulane football games. We always wore uniforms for meetings and public appearances - but not on camps.

In 1937 we organized Troop 2 under Mrs. Gladys Chapman. Since so many older girls were interested in the Marine program, we divided the troops so that the older girls could form a Marine "ship" with Mrs. Chapman as skipper, and help from Bobby Camors - skipper. This lasted only a year or so.

In April, 1934, I attended a Girl Scout training course during the Dixie Region Convention at Belhaven College, Jackson, Miss. Eleanor Jacobs, then 18, was allowed to take the course with me. We took the course in nature study and camping and training under Miss Roy Mitchell of New York.

I could go on and on about our various happy activities. We sang a lot and played games and thoroughly enjoyed being Girl Scouts together. But underlying all the fun we were very serious about passing all our tests and living the ideals of Girl Scouting. We observed all the usual

Advance Notice Is Announced

Starting Friday, the Mississippi Highway Patrol will give advance warning as to where radar is to be worked.

According to Public Safety Commissioner Thomas Shelton, numbers of designated highways on which electric radar speed-timing devices are to be operated will be published in advance.

"We do not wish anyone to be trapped unfairly by radar," Shelton said. "We want to give fair warning, and on a trial basis, will go so far as to name highways daily where radar will be operated."

Chief of Patrol Dave Gayden has instructed field inspectors to order radar equipment used until further notice on the following highways, starting Nov. 4: US 80, 51, 82, 45, and State Routes 45W and 6 in the northern and central sections of the state; US 11, 49, 90, 51, and State 84 in the southern half of the state. He ordered radar equipment shifted daily on these highways.

"Days" - such as Juliette Low's birthday and Girl Scout Week. During the war years we made favors for the service hospitals, and did all kinds of work including yard work to earn our quota for the Red Cross.

We used program consultants even before we knew there was a "word" for it. We used good cooks, hostesses, the librarian, musicians, artists, nature study and bird and tree experts, nurses, doctors, as well as public officials to help with badge work. Never having had formal training for leadership of this kind I had to study too and keep two or three jumps ahead of the girls. It was a challenge that I thoroughly enjoyed and it has, I'm sure, meant as much or more to me than it did to the girls. We had our struggles, but as I look back on it we had lots of fun together, and it was all constructive, not just idle fun. I loved and trusted the girls and I think most of them loved and trusted me. I wouldn't have missed it for anything.

Due to health, and or, age I turned the troop over in 1947 to Mrs. Phil Pierce (our Methodist minister's wife) and Mrs. Gordon Romanoff. Within two years Mrs. Pierce had a d been moved to another town, and Mrs. Romanoff had her first baby, so the troop went unregistered until Mrs. Don Chamberlain and Mrs. Denette Tonkel came to the rescue and reorganized Troop 1 and founded a Brownie Troop.

I was registered again as chairman of the committee of Troop 1. Later I was known as the "Ancient Mariner" when the Troop became Mariners. I have also taken training and served as Volunteer Trainer and Troop Consultant - Live Oak Council.

I couldn't possibly conclude this history without a word of thanks to all who helped me through my 15 years as an active scout leader, particularly my patient, helpful husband and three sons.

A THOUGHT FOR NOVEMBER 8, 1960

Four years ago on November 8th, nearly 100 million Americans in this country were entitled to vote in the Presidential election. What a tragedy that only a little over 62 million actually did vote.

Now free is an American who lives under a government which he has not helped to choose, who has not taken the trouble to be even as free as the subjects in autocratic states who are herded to the polls and vote almost unanimously for the candidates of the ruling group?

Every thinking American, regardless of party, should vote. America's future welfare will be determined by EACH SINGLE VOTE. That vote is a mouth it should reflect patriotism and loyalty. It will outweigh and outweigh the American way of life.

The important thing to decide INDIVIDUALLY as to that ONE VOTE, so that it will be a vote of a THINKING AMERICAN, and not be based on political expediency or traditional party lines. To that end every THINKING AMERICAN should work out the concept of a full life, dedicated to the preservation of the American tradition, the vote the THINKING WAY regardless of party.

Vote Thinkingly on November 8, 1960, and help in preserving our God-given heritage.

Lanphere Reelected

Paul Lanphere was reelected principal of Gulfview School for the 1961-62 session by the county board of education Saturday.

His reappointment came on the recommendation of Superintendent K. G. McCarty after Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Board 5 member, suggested the move at this time might give some more confidence to patrons of the school in the light of some mention the school might be discontinued. State law requires that principals be elected not later than Jan. 15.

Bay Pair Held

Two Bay St. Louis men were among the three arrested by federal agents in a raid Tuesday night in a rural area near DeLisle in Harrison County when a moonshine whiskey operation was destroyed.

Freed on $750 bonds each on charges of internal revenue violation after appearing before a U. S. Commissioner in Bilco were Sidney LaFontaine, 64, and William Alton Scarborough, 48, both of the Bay, and Edwin W. LaFontaine, 33, of DeLisle.

me a fair shake on it. "I'm going to fight it if it costs $50,000." He said that "if it's wrong I'm willing to cut it out and fix it" but he said he doesn't believe the streets are as bad as the report indicated.

Then O'Koon, who has met with the board of aldermen frequently since 1958 in a mutual effort to complete the contract transaction, introduced new information that threw the meeting into a quandry. O'Koon said his company built the streets according to the on location orders of an engineer named E. J. LaCoste, who he said he thought was retained by the town to supervise the job and who his company paid $12,000 for supervising the work.

However, Mayor Garfield Ladner and Dan M. Russell Jr., town attorney, said LaCoste did not represent the town, was not selected by the town, and that it was LaCoste who submitted the original bid for "Gulf Paving Company" that was approved by the board. O'Koon said his firm, which did the work, in "Gulf Paving Inc." and that LaCoste never represented Gulf Paving Inc. or was in no way connected with Gulf Paving Inc.

O'Koon asked that LaCoste be subpoenaed to tell his part in the project. The mayor said that should O'Koon decide to take the issue to court, rather than follow Haas' recommendations, LaCoste will be subpoenaed.

The mayor upheld the Haas report, stating that originally O'Koon said that whatever the engineer found and recommended he would do. Mayor Ladner said that now that the survey has been completed O'Koon should do as he agreed and follow the recommendations. The mayor also said that if O'Koon refused the town will take the matter into court for settlement.

The topic occupied council for two and one half hours.

The men were said to be armed and dangerous and Price was warned to use extreme caution in making the arrest. The boat was spotted aground in Bayou Caddy about a mile from the mouth. The weather was too rough to approach the boat by water so Price organized a posse consisting of Price Jr.; the two Louisiana deputies; Bill Pinso, operator of Bill's Fishing Camp; Monroe Garcia, who led the way and Bill Tymes.

Arrested were Bobby Dean Williamson, 28, and Donald Floyd Hart, 18, both of Covington, La. The boat was floated and brought to Bill's Fishing Camp.

Waveland Eyes Carnegie Course To Be Conducted

Waveland Town Council Tuesday night discussed the possibility of expanding its municipal pier by securing and using abandoned pilings to be removed from along the beach.

Alderman Dominick Sontier recommended that council secure some of the pilings as they are removed. He and Mayor Garfield Ladner pointed out that by using the pilings the pier could be extended and that a T formed on the end 50 to 60 feet in each direction.

Council approved a donation of $200 to the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce to be turned over to the Beach Improvement Association. Also in its drive to raise $1,500 to go along with $5,000 appropriated by the board of supervisors for the $6,500 proposed contract for piling removal.

The council opened two bids for a one-half ton pickup truck, one of $2,060.79 from Pinyama Motors and one of $2,124 from Gulf Chevrolet of Bay St. Louis. Council voted to accept the bid of the local company, even though the higher bid, since the firm is in Hancock County and the sales manager, Blair Johnson, lives in Waveland.

Council also accepted a $245 bid for a gas ceiling heater and automatic timing device from C. K. Harter.

Acting on a request from the Peace Christian Jaycees a resolution was adopted urging the Federal Communications Commission to reach a decision by the end of this month on two requests pending for seven years for a television channel for Bilco to be affiliated with American Broadcasting Co.

The secretary was instructed to send a note of thanks to Mississippi Southern University expressing the appreciation of the town for sheltering local residents at the time of the Hurricane Ethel scare.

Council approved a quarter page, $12.50 advertisement for the Bay High School yearbook.

Fire Destroys Waveland House

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a frame residence at Bourgeois and Peron Streets, Waveland, about midnight Tuesday.

Fire departments from Bay St. Louis and Waveland answered the call but the blaze was too advanced to quell and firemen stayed on the scene about an hour as the flames threatened to spread to adjacent houses. The unoccupied dwelling was owned by Henry Necaise.

Neighbors tried to put out the fire when it was first noticed by Mayor Garfield Ladner and the board of aldermen as they left Town Council meeting.

A Dale Carnegie Course in public speaking, human relations and leadership is to be conducted in Bay St. Louis under the sponsorship of the Jaycees.

E. J. Marango, president, said the Jaycees believe the adult education program will be a genuine community service and that business and professional men, sales people, housewives, clubwomen, office personnel, as well as all other adults will benefit from the training to be offered.

Robert Ladner, Jaycees leadership development chairman and a graduate of the course, said people in other areas report the classes have had an important influence on human relations in their communities.

Karl J. Grimes, field representative for the Dale Carnegie Institute, said a free demonstration session will be held in the Bay High auditorium at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Gulfport Man Is Speaker for Veterans' Day

Clarence R. Boatright, Post 139, American Legion Post, is continuing plans for a big Veterans' Day Parade next Friday Nov. 11.

Participating will be city and county schools, the drum and bugle corps of Keesler Air Force Base, Bay High School band, Boy and Girl Scouts, the post color guard, auxiliary and the junior auxiliary.

Ceremonies will be held at the Courthouse at the end of the parade. Guest speaker will be Robert L. Rice of Gulfport, justice of the Peace Russell J. Elliott will be the master of ceremonies and Fred Foyard sr. will be parade chairman.

The post is now making a final effort to collect current dues before Veterans' Day and members who haven't paid are being asked to do so at the regular November meeting this evening of Nov. 10.

negie Institute, said a free demonstration session will be held in the Bay High auditorium at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The public is being invited to the session. There will be no charge or obligation in attending. Purpose of the demonstration meeting is to acquaint visitors with Dale Carnegie methods in effective speaking, human relations and leadership training. A feature of the evening will be a demonstration of one of the memory-training techniques developed by Dale Carnegie.

Darwood Estate Is Sold

The major part of Darwood, one of the most famous tourist attractions, has been sold to Raymond Colby of Chicago, Ill., for about $1,000,000, according to Horace E. Irwin, local realtor.

Emmett Lee Irwin, whose ownership the garden was developed, retained a limited acreage which James O. Norman, prior superintendent of grounds for the garden, will continue to manage.

It is understood Colby has plans of sub-dividing the property, consisting of some 600 acres, including the main house, garden, lake, guest house and service buildings. Final plans for the future use of the property have been delayed because of the illness of Colby, the Echo was told.

Dr. Irwin, New Orleans physician, also has not disclosed his plans for the waterfront property he retained.

Gourmet Plant To Transfer To Chalmette

A. E. Kretschman, head of Gourmet Seafoods, Inc., which opened here last spring, has disclosed his firm will transfer an enlarged operation to Chalmette, La., but hopes to retain the firm's Hancock County plant on about 100 present acres.

The change, according to Kretschman, was necessitated when the firm recently contracted to supply a greatly enlarged volume of its seafood delicacies to the necessary facilities, particularly freezer space and financing, were not available here but were in Chalmette.

Kretschman added that all present employees have been offered jobs at the new location, to which he expects to move soon, but emphasized he hoped the firm would be able to continue its local operation in addition to the enlarged operation in Louisiana.

Dudley Carver Heads Retired Civil Servants

Dudley Carver, native of Bay St. Louis now living in Biloxi, has been elected president of the Gulf Coast Chapter 209, National Association of Retired Civil Employees.

Carver has lived in Biloxi since 1941. He served 30 years in the Navy and Coast Guard and has worked at the Biloxi Veterans Center, Keesler AFB and as a mail carrier at the Biloxi Postoffice.

He was the bantam weight and feather weight champion of the South and runner-up for the national title while in the Navy from 1920 to 1935. Carver is presently employed as a salesman with a funeral service firm.

Moore Retires After Lengthy U.S. Service

Comdr. Alvin Edward Moore and Mrs. Moore have moved to their new home on Beach Blvd., Waveland, following his retirement after 38 years of government service. His latest post was as patent advisor in the patent division of the Army Ordnance Missile Command's Legal Office at Huntsville, Ala.

Commander Moore now plans to do some private patent attorney work, pursue studies toward a doctor of philosophy degree at Louisiana State University and devote more time to his hobby of historical writing.

A native of Louisiana, he became a midshipman at the U. S. Naval Academy at the age of 16. He was a nautical scientist in the Navy civilian service. He was on active duty with the Naval Reserve during World War II and Korea, as well as a stint with the Army military intelligence, reserve. He was a patent examiner in the U. S. Patent Office and border patrol inspector and immigration inspector when the Immigration Service was in the Department of Labor. The retiring officer also was with the State Department as vice consul.

Deaths

Daniel R. Fayard
Funeral services for Daniel Richard Fayard, 82, of Waveland, were held on Monday in the Fahey Funeral Home.

Graveside services were held in the Fayard cemetery in Waveland.

Mr. Fayard died at his residence at 7:30 p.m. Surviving are his widow, the former Amanda Neale; six sons: Daniel J. of Biloxi, Karl of Youngstown, O., A.P.D. of Tampa, Fla., Jack of New Orleans and Herlon of Waveland; four daughters: Mrs. Eleanore Johnston, Mrs. Ruth Patterson and Mrs. Dorothy Rossignol, all of New Orleans, and Miss Jeanette Fayard of Waveland; three half brothers, Peter G. Fayard of Bay St. Louis, Paul Fayard of Waveland and John F. Fayard of Waveland; two half sisters, Mrs. Chris Laddner of Waveland and Mrs. Victoria Hanley of New Orleans; 26 grandchildren and 37 great grandchildren.

Palbearers were Al'd Fayard jr., Newton Patterson, Louis Johnston, Don Fayard III, Robert L. Fayard and Roy Fayard.

Otto Fayard
Otto Fayard, 72, formerly of Bay St. Louis and a resident of Metairie, La., for 19 years, died suddenly on Friday at his home in Metairie.

Survivors include the widow, the former Miss Sarah Graves; one son, Ulysses Maelynn, New Orleans; two daughters, Miss May Maelynn, New Orleans; Mrs. D. J. Ziegler, Mississippi City; three sisters, Mrs. Celine Ashcraft, Miss Emma Fayard and Mrs. Ella Terrillo, Norco, La.; one brother, G. H. Fayard, Atlanta, Ga.; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were at 10 a.m. Sunday from Laman-Penna-Fallo Funeral Home, New Orleans, followed by religious services at St. James Catholic Church in Mississippi City. Interment was in Southern Memorial Park, Biloxi.

B. H. Oiestad jr.
Word has been received here of the death Sunday in Glendale, Calif., of Buddy H. Oiestad jr., about 33, son of the late Captain Oiestad of Bay St. Louis. Final rites were there Tuesday. He was the stepson of Mrs. Marlen Steffen Oiestad of this city.

Demo Chairman ...

allowed Mississippi to reconvene its convention after the national convention. "We were expecting trouble in Los Angeles but thought we deserved reasonable consideration so when we got there our delegates signed a minority report objecting to the Democratic platform," he said.

"The reason for Gov. Ross Barnett's name being nominated for president was so that the minority report would come to the floor of the convention, otherwise it would not have been heard. "When we came back to Mississippi after the Los Angeles convention Gov. Barnett reconvened the state convention and prior to that I put an ad in the paper that in fairness to the Democrats in Hancock County, one of the three in the state that reconvened, to determine the way we were going to go and called a meeting after which the executive committee adopted the unplugged plan.

"I did my duty and went to Jackson and pledged Hancock County for the Democratic independents. We didn't say the heck with the Democratic candidates, we left them on the ballot and are still supporting the nomination of Democratic congressmen and senators. Our electors were placed second on the ballots.

"I feel I am loyal to most of the county's Democrats. At the early county conventions of the party everybody wanted to go to the state convention but only a few showed up. Barnett did the reasonable thing. We had a voice vote and only about 25 out of 650 people were for Kennedy."

Webre and Snider took issue to O'Keefe's statement that civil rights was really not an issue in comparing the platforms of the two major parties. Webre said civil rights was instituted by the Supreme Court under a Democratic administration with eight Democratic Justices and only one Republican.

Further, Webre said, when the Republican administration came into office it had no power to set aside the decision of the Supreme Court. Consequently, the Democrats are responsible for the civil rights issue but they are now trying to sweep it under the rug and woo back into the fold the people who deserted the party since the Truman administration. Both platforms have to comply with the laws of the land and that's the reason for the parallel of the two platforms insofar as civil rights is concerned.

"I feel that a vote now for the Democratic ticket on the part of a person who has always been considered a Democrat is nothing but a bona fide endorsement of the Democratic platform and certainly the results of the election in the South can be construed in no other way. A vote for the Republican ticket could be construed as opposition to the Democratic party platform."

O'Keefe said integration was not an issue because both parties advocated it and the unplugged will have to go for one or the other.

Elliott pointed out that all of the elected officials were endorsed and elected by the people of Hancock County. "They ran on a Democratic ticket," he said. "You have shown by your vote that you favor the Democratic way and even the other parties have shown they actually prefer the Democratic way by their lack of action to provide candidates of opposing tickets for our local offices."

Announcing various Democratic rally plans throughout the county yesterday, Elliott declared, "The loyal Democrats wish to stress one thing that has been misrepresented throughout the county."

Moore Urges ...

Lodge ticket now, and the Republican ticket at future elections year after year, can Mississippi gain recognition nationally as an up and coming state that is alive and wants to go places.

He warned that the Democrats are pouring huge sums of money into the state right now campaigning to "keep you in the same place you've always been in as Dixiecrat Republicans."

Moore attacked the Democrats for their policies to limit the economic freedom of Americans. He said the Democrats "think we don't have sense enough to handle our own economics, they feel we are spending our money foolishly and should be spending it for public purposes."

The candidate said Mississippi Gulf Coast is now experiencing an all time high prosperity, because of the Republican policy of personal economic freedom.

Moore urged the women attending the meeting to help get out the vote for Nixon and Lodge next Tuesday and for the Republican Party each election thereafter. He said "we can help the Republican Party to grow strong and it can help get Mississippi off the bottom rung of the ladder of national politics and economics."

The senatorial candidate was introduced by W. W. Webre, Hancock County GOP chairman.

Webre reported that he attended a state GOP meeting in Jackson Tuesday morning it was predicted that the Republicans will carry Mississippi.

Webre said that in Hancock County he feels that 55 to 60 percent of the voters will stay home because of the poll tax and that this may help the Republicans. He said this will leave most of the votes coming from Beat 5 and that he feels Beat 5 will vote Republican.

Mrs. Richard Hadden, chairman of women's activities for the county GOP committee, was in charge of the tea.

Mrs. Sharp To Present Book Review

Mrs. Roger Sharp of Pass Christian will review the book, "Rudolph Matas, by Dr. Isidore Cohen and Hermann R. Deutsch at the first review of the season Thursday, Nov. 17, at 3 p.m. at City-County Memorial Library.

This review is said to be of great interest locally as both the authors and the subject of the fascinating biography are well known in the area. Dr. Matas, a native of Louisiana, died in 1957 at the age of 97 and in his lifetime achieved world-wide fame in the field of medicine. A pioneer surgeon, he was acclaimed one of the world's greatest. He lived through and contributed greatly to the most outstanding century of medical progress the world has known according to the biographers.

His brilliant career is set in a fascinating historical and geographical background that provides unusual story material.

the state auditor who used to check this county had died and the new one was not familiar with his methods which had made for difficulty.

Because of the critical transportation picture, the board approved use of a bus by the American Legion to take some Boy Scouts to New Orleans only on condition it is covered by insurance. It subsequently developed that the Legion did not use the bus. Mrs. McDonald suggested it might be well to refuse any bus requests until more equipment is available.

Held for consideration next Monday, when McCarty is to report on finances, was a request from North Central Principal Leo Rouse for an additional English teacher for that school to get it an A rating by accrediting officials.

Septic tank trouble was reported at one teacher's residence and McCarty suggested the North Central vocational agriculture class might be recruited to assist. Phillips noted that since the law requires furnishing houses only to the principal and vocational teacher, whereupon Trustee Alton Keller suggested board policy should refrain from repairing other dwellings. Trustee Lugs Neale was asked to check the problem with County Sanitarian Wayne Alliston.

Rouse was authorized to represent the system in connection with Public Law 874, dealing with federal aid for children of government employed persons.

At Monday's session, McCarty inquired what he should do about repeated requests from some persons who want to buy equipment through the schools at a discount. Keller said he knew of two slightly related instances in the past although both had been paid for in cash or by check of the individual. Mrs. McDonald and McCarty concurred that even if the person was employed by the schools, it would not be right.

MR. AND MRS. EMIL PAUL BABIN

Babin-Schindler Vows Said At Nuptial Mass Saturday

Miss Katherine Lorena Schindler and Emil Paul Babin of Pass Christian spoke their wedding vows at a nuptial mass at 10 a.m. Saturday at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. The Rev. Michael Kelly officiated at the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with arrangements of white gladioli against background of palms.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Schindler and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Babin of Pass Christian.

Escorted by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of tulle and lace, the bodice embroidered with pearls and sequins with a scoop-neckline. The lace jacket was fashioned with long tapered sleeves and the bouffant skirt was full. Her shoulder length veil fell from a tiara of pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Shirley Babin, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and Miss Beverly Jean Schindler, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore street length frocks of blue broadcloth taffeta with matching jackets and not handpieces of the same color. Their bouquets were of pink carnations. Emil Schindler Jr., brother of the bride, was best man and the groom's brother, Phillip Babin Jr., was groomsmen.

For the occasion the bride's mother chose a wine broadcloth taffeta dress with black accessories. The groom's mother was in a light blue silk dress with black accessories. Their coronets were of carnations.

A reception followed at the Knights of Columbus Hall where the five-tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table which was covered with a handmade lace cloth and adorned with arrangements of fern and white gladioli. Assisting in serving were Mesdames Owen Heitzmann, Frank Taconi, sums of the bride, Shirley Turcotte and Steven Faccetta.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to Panama City, Fla., the bride was wearing a blue wool dress with a matching jacket, black accessories, a blue hat and carnations at the shoulder. They returned Wednesday and are at home at 312 Union St.

Among out of town guests here for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Eathon Garriga of Pass Christian, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Landry, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yax, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Smolke, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dedeaux, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carver, Mesdames William Steele, Clarence Roig and Dan Arceneaux, all of New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown of Kenner, La., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ayo of Bridge City, La., and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Tankersley of Oury, Colo.

Among pre-nuptial parties for the bride were a miscellaneous shower at the Youth Center for which Mesdames Martin Lohner, Evan Puchea and Bluz Dapreo were hostesses and a kitchen shower given by Mrs. Charles Branch Jr. at her beach home.

The bride is a graduate of Bay High School and is employed in the Bay St. Louis gas department. Mr. Babin was graduated from Pass High School and is with a roofing firm in that town.

Shoulda Gone Fishin'

BY EDDIE ENGELHORN

Fall-winter fishing, the best of the year, has started in earnest and local anglers, male and female, are taking full advantage of it. This is the time of year that the fish will bite most anything. Only a few of the borders of summer visitors ever get to enjoy the fall run and would really have something to go home and talk about if they would prolong their vacation a little longer.

Redfish, trout and all the other sought-after fish are being taken nearly everywhere — in the rivers, bayous, marshes and off the bridges and seawalls.

The season on wild geese opened Sunday and every hunter we spoke to commented on the abundant supply of the lucious birds, most getting the limit. The duck season opens Nov. 19 and a report of an aerial survey by Ducks Unlimited indicates a good duck population this year. They also report that cold air from the Western Arctic, snow and a stiff northwest wind in Canada has started a strong movement of ducks southward. Pintails and blue-winged teal are gone but the larger amount of ducks are still there in reported. All in all it should be a very good season if it is believed.

Word from New Game Warden

Game Warden Nolan Ledner reports that he was in Red Creek area near Sauter early this week and saw some of the finest squirrel hunting he ever heard of. Said there were several road blocks checking cars to see that hunters stayed within the game limit laws and that one station checked about 300 squirrel. "M a n, what hunting," he said. The cool weather has helped this sport considerably, it appears.

Ledner said the old urge for fishing has returned since he took over the game warden job and went out twice Monday, once in the morning up the Jordan with the Mrs. and once in the afternoon with son Nodie. Nolan says just because he is game warden doesn't mean he is a good fisherman, both Nodie and Mrs. Nolan outfishing him. They got a good catch in the Jordan including reds, sheepshead, drum and specks.

At a meeting in Waveland's Town Hall Tuesday Mayor Garfield Ledner and Alderman Dominick Sailer discussed plans for improving the municipal pier using the piling that will be removed when the pier is being beautified. The plan is to lengthen the pier to 60 feet platform at the end for fishermen and crabbers. The conservation commission will be asked to plant seed oysters in the area to improve fishing. If the plans are consummated it should provide a hot fishing spot that can be easily reached.

Sailer entertained the group after the meeting with some tall tales of the fish he has been getting recently.

Bill Fisher of New Orleans and formerly of Bay St. Louis said he caught a sackful of trout off the highway bridge Saturday. He was visiting relatives.

The Geese Are Great

Birch Bankston Jr. was out bright and early Monday for the opening of the goose season and brought home the limit from the Pearl River area.

Jim Larroux of Felicity Street called Tuesday morning said he had bagged five of the fastest geese "you ever saw" that morning in the marshes up the Jordan River. We immediately dispatched ourselves, mit camera, to check on the story and sure enough he was right. They were blue and snow geese and Jim was complaining of a stiff finger where one of the birds nicked him. He proudly reports that daughter Jeanne, who worked with us last summer as a reporter, is doing even better this year at Loyola University than last when she won a journalistic award, a beautiful bronze plaque.

Our pressman, Toni Mond, brought us a nice batch of roe mullet that father-in-law Joe Taconi caught Tuesday. Added to a couple of nice flounder that Mother Cunningham and Rita Blaise speared Monday night they made a delicious fish fry. Father agrees with us that the only side dish with fish is grits.

Our City Hall occur, Jack Budd, reports that Mayor Johnnie Scodis was out fishing Wednesday but couldn't find out where he

Pine Cone Pickers Earn $15,289

Hancock County pine cone pickers earned $15,289.50 through the sale of 14,202 bushels of cones to the Mississippi Forestry Commission and the Southern Timber Management Corp. during one month of collection.

"Either they didn't know or weren't declaring themselves," he said.

Charles Hays of Chartres Drive reports that the bridge was jammed Monday morning with fishermen and most of them were doing fine. Charles got a five-pound flounder and 14 "great big specks" — threw the little ones back. Mrs. Hays said, Crabbing wasn't very good, she said, only getting ten. Charles was using shrimp for bait.

11 Rock Gridders to Graduate

When St. Stanislaus football squad meets the Crusaders from St. Aloysius of New Orleans, 11 young men will be appearing for their last local performance as Rock-A-Chow footballers.

Backfield stars playing their last game are E. J. Bahia, oocback, and Bobby Labrano, signal caller; Jean Larroux, main runner; c halfback, along with Malvern Wilson as power fullback completes the senior backfield.

Line men who have turned in rugged play the past four years for the Crimson are pivotman Pat Mashburn, center, flanked by tackle Prieur Leary who has always been one of the outstanding linemen for the Rocks and tackle Louis Jacobi, stalwart defensive man and chief punter; John Robicheaux, the lightest tackle on the squad.

William App is the only graduating guard and will be sorely missed next year. Steve Butard has been the chief terminal line man for the past two seasons as well as understudy and in his sophomore year. Jack Norman, a newcomer to the Rock team this year, held down the other end post.

Hardin Shattuck reports he was driving to Jackson Saturday and picked up a Mississippi Southern student. He got a real bang out of the lad, he said, on one occasion asking him why he wasn't at the football game. "Shucks, man, you know what they did this year? They're charging us two bucks to get in the games. Me, I'm going home and shoot rabbits," he growled.

On the Bowling Front

We have had a lot of phone calls saying they read a lot of advertising about free instruction for ladies and children but nothing is mentioned about men at the Bay Bowling Center. We called Mrs. David Poindeux and she said there is always someone available who will be glad to give anybody instructions regardless of age or sex.

She also said that a free bowling clinic for women and children started this week on weekdays from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. Women wishing to enroll and bowl should contact Mrs. Poindeux at HO 7-4966. No charge for instruction or use of alleys is made during clinic hours.

Ten Brothers Renew Vows At Seminary on Tuesday

The ten Divine Word Missionary brothers at St. Augustine Seminary renewed their total consecration to God at the seminary chapel on Tuesday, at the conclusion of an eight-day retreat given by Rev. Edmund Marman, S.V.D., master of brother novices, at the seminary in Convent, N. Y.

These brothers play a vital part in the running of the seminary here. In the various offices, in the tailor shop, sacristy, shop, religious goods store, and on the campus, they daily offer up their achievements of their hands to God for the salvation of souls and the conversion of the world.

They are Brothers Penetrus Dulle, Jefferson City, Mo.; Theophane Allen, Chicago, Ill.; Joseph Maddox, Abell, Md.; Lawrence Martin, Smet, La.; Benavente Chavert, La. Bea, La.; James Balhazar, Natchitoches, La.; Bernard Dorade, Panama City, Panama; Thomas Joseph, Stamm Creek, British Honduras; Raymond Etienne, St. Martinville, La.; Valentine Smart, from Amador, Panama.

Brothers are non-ordained members of religious communities of men who follow a rule of life and perform the work of their particular communities for their own sanctification and the salvation of others.

A survey published recently in Rome showed the growth of the Divine Word Missionary Brothers over the last 12 years, and covered all 34 countries from which the order draws its vocations.

Although there was only a 6.5 per cent growth of professed religious brothers from 1947 to 1959, the novices grew 182 per cent and those in preliminary training (called "Candidates") increased 735 per cent. Candidates increased from 71 to 593.

Carter, Summy Named Jaycees Of the Month

Charles Carter Jr. and Al Summy have been chosen Jaycees for the month of October by the Bay St. Louis Jaycees.

Carter, formerly secretary, is now chairman of the profit-making committee which has completed a financially successful circus program.

Summy recently made several signs which will be placed on U.S. 90 to make Hancock General Hospital easier to find for out of town persons. He also painted the emblem on the door of the Jaycee Building.

HS Ends Season Tonight

Playing one of their best games of the year Bay High ended Purvis 19-6 Friday night on the Purvis home grid.

The Tigers wind up their season Thursday night when they play Ocean Springs who are in the Long Beach for second place in conference. Should the Tigers win they will be assured of the conference lead and the chance of where the playoff will be held which will no doubt be in St. Stanislaus Stadium. The playoff is scheduled for Nov. 18.

The Tigers started moving early in the first quarter and got the 20-yard line from where Lester La France went over on a pichout fake to the back. Gregory Necaise kicked the extra point.

In the second quarter Purvis moved the score racking up six points on a six-yard pass from quarterback Howard Anderson to end Mack Roberts but failed to add the extra point. The half ended with the Tigers holding a slim lead.

Bay High halted away the game in the third quarter on a short pass by Bobby Van Calsem who punched the extra point.

In the fourth quarter Blaise added the insurance on another six yard pass from the Tigers but the extra point failed again. Bay High played solid defensive ball and stopped the Panthers in their tracks when the chips were down.

Rocks Blasted, 34 to 0

A rugged Escambia High School team, rated one of Florida's best, rolled over St. Stanislaus 34-0 Friday night at Pensacola, Fla.

The two remaining home games on Stanislaus' schedule will be played at 7:30 p.m. instead of 8 p.m. Brother Basil, athletic director, announced.

The Rocks meet Jesuit High School of New Orleans Friday night in Stanislaus Stadium and next Friday will entertain St. Aloysius, also of New Orleans, Saturday, Nov. 19, they travel to Prichard, Ala., to meet Vigor High School to close the season. This game was originally scheduled for Sept. 30 but was postponed because of Hurricane Ethel.

Early in the first quarter, after two exchanges of punts, a Rebel took Louis Jacob's kick and ran it back 55 yards for the first touchdown. The try for extra point was good.

Shortly before the end of the first period another Rock-A-Chaw punt was turned into a score by a 62-yard run by another Escambia back and added the point to up the score at the end of the quarter to 14-0.

Play was fairly even in the second quarter, neither team threatening until Escambia got to the two from where Shivers scored on a sneak. Later in the period Bobby Lohrno's pass was intercepted and resulted in another tally for the Rebels after grinding out three first downs to the five. At the end of the half it was 24-0.

Escambia passed for their fifth TD midway in the third frame, then recovered a Stanislaus fumble deep in Rock territory for the sixth.

The Rocks showed some fine yard gaining via the pass route during the third stanza but never able to get deeper than the 14-yard line of Escambia.

Neither team scored in the final quarter but the Pensacola defense held off four close opportunities of Stanislaus. Lohrno's passing arm was in fine shape, completing 13 out of 15 attempts.

Summy Heads - Al Summy was elected president of the county's first bowling league at an organizational meeting Tuesday at Bay Bowling Center, Mrs. David Poindexter has announced.

Known as the Bayside Bowling League, members will have two weeks to practice and establish averages so handicaps may be determined. Actual competition will start Nov. 14.

C. C. McDonald Jr. was elected vice president; Robert Hamilton, treasurer, and Marlin Markel, secretary.

Meanwhile, winners of the prizes at the grand opening have been announced by Mrs. Dorothy Yaryan, proprietor. The bowling ball went to John J. Leimer of 302 Carroll Ave., the bag to William Chevis, 704 Hancock St., and the shoes to Mrs. Frank Pike, 316 Leonhard Ave.

Moose Continue Organization Drive - The Hancock County Lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose, now being organized, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Ray's Restaurant on Ullman Avenue.

Organizational meetings are being held each week as those who have already joined continue to seek other members.

Men interested in the fraternal, family protection organization may contact the acting secretary, L. L. Rutherford, or the acting treasurer, James Mayfield.

Authority on Retarded Will Address Civitan

Ray Sanderson of Gulfport, the father of a mentally retarded child, was an authority on retarded children, will address the Civitan Club of Bay St. Louis at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 10. James Fillingame, president, said the meeting will be in the Coast Electric Power Assn. building on U. S. 90 and that school officials and other interested community leaders are being invited to attend.

Sanderson, a member of the Mississippi Retarded Children's Assn., travels throughout the Southern states telling about retarded children and how various organizations can help to provide the specialized education that will help the children lead a happier and more useful life. He will show slides at the Civitan meeting of the children and what can and is being done for them. The Bay St. Louis Civitan club is currently selling fruit cakes to raise funds to help retarded children. The club is hoping to be able to fill some of the needs of the special class for retarded children at North Bay Elementary School. Miss Noonan is sale chairman.
